

Many other actuarial methods will require increasing sophistication in developing assumptions to apply to the RMD formula. Other examples of actuarial methods include the “annually recalculated virtual annuity” (ARVA) approach from the hubristically named “The Only Spending Rule Article You Will Ever Need,” by M. Barton Waring and Laurence B. Siegel,