

- Institutional ownership has risen from 25 percent five years ago to 60 percent today—with several Boston fund groups being major purchasers.