

issue, gently, very gently, remind each other what you decided together when you were both objective, unemotional, and outside the grip of your old money blueprints.

AWARENESS: Consider a specific emotional incident you experienced around money when you were young.

UNDERSTANDING:
Write down how this incident may have affected your current financial life.

DISASSOCIATION: Can you see this way of being is only what you learned and isn't you? Can you see you have a