

people come up to me and ask if they can touch me. They say, “I’ve never touched a multimillionaire before.” I’m usually polite and smile, but in my mind I’m saying, “Get a frickin’ life! I’m no better or different from you, and unless you start to understand that, you’ll stay broke forever!”

My friends, it’s not about “touching” millionaires, it’s about deciding that you are just as good and worthy as they are, and then acting like it. My best advice is this: if you really want to touch a millionaire, become one!

I hope you get the point. Instead of mocking rich people, model them. Instead of shying away from
