

blueprint” set for success, which is exactly what you will have once you learn these principles and do this work.

Early on during our Millionaire Mind Intensive Seminar, I generally ask the audience, “How many of you came here to learn?” It’s a bit of a trick question because as author Josh Billings said, “It’s not what we don’t know that prevents us from succeeding; it’s what we know that just ain’t so that is our greatest obstacle.” This book is not as much about learning as it is about “unlearning”! It is essential you recognize how your old ways of thinking and acting have gotten you exactly where you are right now.
