The mark of true wealth is determined by how much one can give away.

—T. Harv Eker

This book teaches you to observe your ways of thinking and to challenge your limiting, nonsupportive thoughts, habits, and actions with regard to money. The reason we start with money is that money is one of the biggest areas of pain in most people's lives. But there's a bigger picture to consider. You see, once you start recognizing your nonsupportive ways around finances, this awareness will transfer into every other part of your life.

The goal of this book has been to assist you in raising your consciousness. Again, consciousness is observing your thoughts and actions, so that you can operate from true choice in the present, rather than acting on the basis of programming from the past. It is about the power to respond from your higher self rather than to react from your fear-based, "lower" self. In this way you can be the best you can be and fulfill your destiny.

But you know what? The essence of this transformation is not just about you. It is about the entire world. Our world is nothing more than a reflection of the people who make it up. As each individual raises his or her consciousness, the world raises its consciousness—moving from fear to courage, from hatred to love, and from scarcity to prosperity for all.

It is therefore up to each of us to enlighten ourselves so that we may add more light to the world.

If you want the world to be a certain way, then start with you being that way. If you want the world to be a better place, start with you being
