

Verbal programming: What did you hear when you were young?

Modeling: What did you see when you were young?

Specific incidents: What did you experience when you were young?

The three aspects of conditioning are important to understand, so let's go over each of them. In Part II of this book, you will learn how to recondition yourself for wealth and success.

The First Influence: Verbal Programming