

Backtrader offers several advantages over our simple approach:

- It handles position management automatically
- It simulates realistic order execution
- It provides built-in performance analyzers