

experience. They are the result of twenty-five years of careful analysis of the methods of both the most successful and the most unsuccessful men America has known.