

CHAPTER 8

The Subtle Art Of Futures And Options Trading

Once upon a time, a master and his disciple started walking side by side through a beautiful garden.

The disciple suddenly stops walking and asks: "Hello master, you talk about peace and many ways to achieve peace. But I have also learned from you deadly techniques of fighting and the tactics of battle. How do you reconcile the two?"

The master gracefully smiles and says, "My dear, it is better to be a warrior in a garden than a gardener in a war."

It is better to be A Warrior in a Garden
Than to be a Gardener in a War!

This world-famous Chinese martial story inspired many people to take action. This story gives a clear message – it was never about wanting to fight, but it is all about being ready to fight.