

focus on your work, success knocks on your door. Virat is a master in this, and he is always concentrated on cricket.

Many traders struggle to stick to one trading system. When you stay with a person for some time, only then you can judge the person's behavior in different situations. Similarly, when a trader uses one trading strategy for a considerable amount of time, only then will he know when this system gives more profits, when it bleeds, etc.

3 – Fitness is the Key

"Can you name 3 fittest cricketers?" – You can ask this question to any person on this planet, and everyone takes Virat's name in the list. It indicates he is one of the top 3 fittest cricketers, and it helps him play all the matches and contribute in every game. His fitness gives him flexibility, quick reflexes, for better performance.

Traders can also aim to maintain good physical and mental health. Market variations, losses & profits can increase fatigue and mental stress. So, it is essential to maintain good health by eating right, doing yoga or any physical work, along with meditation and pranayama.

4 – Staying in the Game

This one quality puts Virat in the unique league of top cricketers. In bowler-friendly conditions or when the situation is not favorable to hit shots, Virat rotates the strike with every ball. He converts dot balls to 1 run, 1 run to 2 runs with his excellent running; this brings enormous pressure on bowlers and fielders. From that moment, he starts playing big shots!

Every intraday trader can deploy the same technique. When the market conditions are not favorable, we should try to save our capital and aim to make small returns on each trade. When we get back to normal conditions, we can execute our plans to make more money using compounding or taking a little extra risk.
