

CHAPTER 4

5 Candlestick Patterns Every Day Trader Must Know

"Picasso had a saying – 'good artists copy; great artists steal' – and we have always been shameless about stealing great ideas" – Steve Jobs

Beginners might have a tough time understanding price action near essential price levels. Besides, they lose confidence if their analysis goes wrong a few times initially.

So, like Steve Jobs, why not steal a 'great idea' and make it our own?

I have read all the books by Steve Nison, and all the information is excellent. My only question is how to remember all those 100s of candlestick patterns? In addition, how to recall all these patterns in the live market?

Hence, a few years back, I did a detailed study on most of these candlestick patterns. I wanted to shortlist some powerful candlestick patterns that frequently occur at the intraday level (in 15-min and 5-min charts).
