

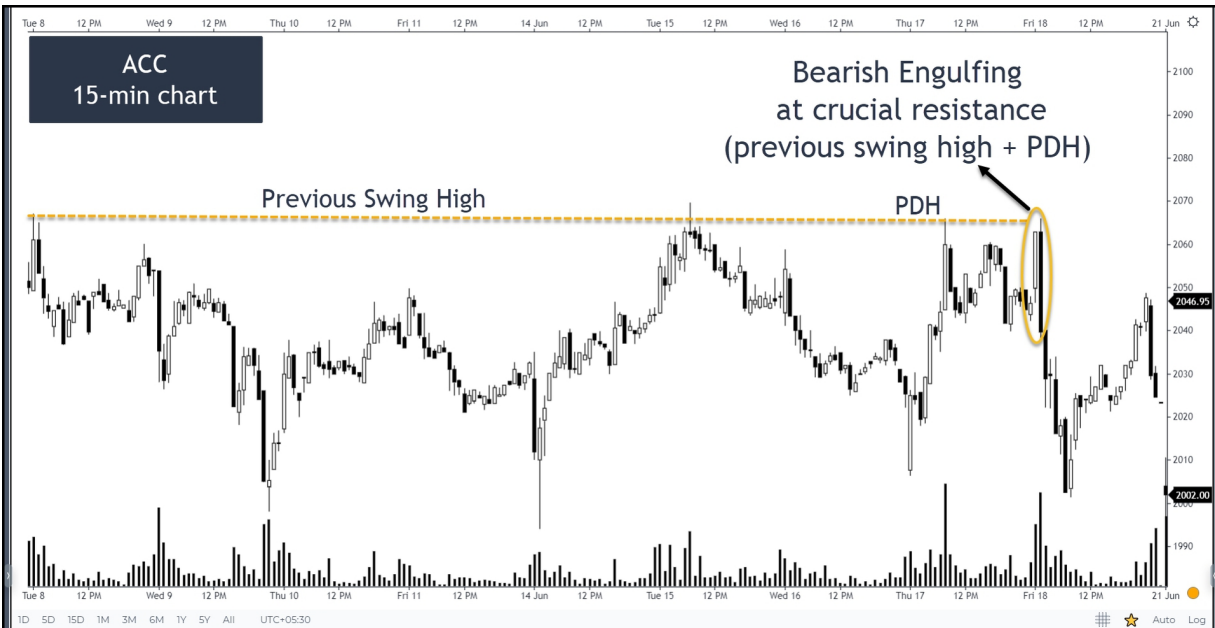

Image 4.13 – Bearish Engulfing Pattern in ACC

The above image shows an example of a bearish engulfing pattern in the ACC chart. The previous day high (PDH) is also aligned with the previous swing high, and hence it is very crucial for bulls to break this price level.

But the price displayed a big bearish engulfing pattern at this level, indicating that bulls failed to break above this level. Later sellers took control for the rest of the day.
