

A little help from Mum

with Joan Pape

Hi everyone,

When Scott was growing up he actually did do a bit of cooking, but only when it suited him, of course. But I did manage to teach him how to make a few basic meals.

And when he left home, he continued cooking. I remember when he was first working at the Stock Exchange in Sydney, he cooked us a wonderful meal when we came to visit (from memory it was spaghetti bolognese).

Now Scott has asked me to come up with some very easy meals that your kids can cook themselves.

I hope they like them!

Joan's Veggie Slice