

What's it like for a new starter?

'On the teen's first day we pair them up with a buddy and then check in with them throughout the week. And if the parents have any questions, we have a Woolworths recruitment manager they can contact.'

Any tips for parents?

'My view? Don't be the parent who rings up on behalf of your teen. By all means prep them, but let them fight their own battles.'

One more tip

Woolies has videos and stories about all the different jobs they offer on their WOW Careers website, wowcareers.com.au/jobs/. My favourite profile on the website is Lisa from the deli department, who says: 'You never know what sort of people are going to walk into your life every day.' Too true, Lisa. If you're slinging the snags at Broadmeadows Woolies at 2 am on a Thursday, I guarantee you're going to get some 'WOW'!

Coles

Barefoot does a price check in the 'give me a job' aisle with Coles' Chief Financial Officer, Leah Weckert

Stats: 807 stores, 92 000 staff (a third are casuals), 12 500 new hires under 19 years old in 2017, average age 33, average time with company