

Just over a year ago I was a 17-year-old high school graduate with literally $0 to my name. Luckily, I managed to find a farm job over the summer break before starting uni. My boss handed me a copy of your book.

My first thoughts were . . . why does a 17-year-old girl need a finance book?

Nevertheless, I decided to give it a go. Reading your book made me feel like I had been living in the dark. There were so many things I should have known! I was taken aback by how easy it was to read and how everything was explained in a way that even I, who knew nothing about finance, could understand. Back then I had one everyday bank account and no idea about super funds.

Fast forward to now . . .

I switched super funds. I was so proud of myself when I switched to a low-cost fund. Yes, I've got decades till I retire . . . and that's the point!

In the past year I have set up my buckets, and I have $3000 in 'Mojo'. I have also saved, using your methods, for a $3000 trip to Japan, a $3000 car, a $1000 trip to Brisbane, a $1000 University Games tournament, and $2000 for braces . . . and I still have $4000 of my original money from the farm job. I have no debt, I receive no cash from my parents, and I don't worry about money.
