

Praise for The Barefoot Investor

My wife read The Barefoot Investor quicker than Mum read Fifty Shades of Grey and it transformed the way we manage our finances, which at first annoyed me because I'm a creature of habit but once I got my head around it and saw the money we were saving I kicked my shoes off and jumped onboard the Barefoot Express!

—Peter Helliar, presenter on The Project and author of the bestselling Frankie Fish series

I read The Barefoot Investor and was immediately blown away. It was so easy to digest and everything that Scott said made so much sense. I went out and bought copies for all my family and friends and I also implemented a lot of the strategies that Scott recommends. This is a must read for all Australians.

How many times do we say, 'I wish I'd known sooner'? Many Australians will have been saying that after putting in place the very sensible strategies that Scott outlines in The Barefoot Investor. It's the only book I've ever read that sets out a money strategy that will actually work. So it's wonderful he's now doing the same thing for the next generation. If I had my way, I'd make this new book a mandatory part of the school curriculum.

Yet again, Scott delivers life-saving financial advice in his signature engaging style. If you have kids or ever plan to, you must read this book.
