

BAREFOOT DATE NIGHT

PARENTS ONLY!

Choose somewhere really fancy for dinner. Ladies, get dressed up. Gents, comb your hair. It's time to get your Barefoot Date Night game on.

The plan you're putting in place will have a bigger impact on your kids' future earnings than any money you spend on schooling, so go all out!

ENTRÉE:

Order a beer or wine. It's time to see if you and your partner are on the same page when it comes to teaching your kids about money. You'll work out whether you are by discussing these questions.

- Did you get pocket money as a kid?
- What was your first part-time job?
- What did you learn from your parents about money?
- What do you want to teach your kids about money?

MAIN COURSE:

Then go to page together, have a squiz at the Barefoot Scoreboard and pick out some jobs your kids could do to earn pocket money. You'll let the kids choose their own jobs, but it's handy to have some suggestions ready.

Finally, flick over to page and have a look at the Barefoot Ten, so you both know what's coming up.
