

Take out your phone while you're at the restaurant and set the following two reminders:

1. 'Siri, remind me on Monday at 8 am to print out the Barefoot Scoreboard from the Barefoot website, or photocopy it from page'. (Print out one sheet for each kid—it will last a month.)
2. 'Remind me to see if we have enough jam jars and stickers in the house' (if you haven't already).

Get some dollar coins from the servo on your way home. Fill up the car and grab a Magnum as a treat. You want to have the cash ready to go for your first Barefoot Money Meal.

So you've got your partner slightly tipsy, and they're on board . . . now it's time to get the kids hooked.

How are you going to do that? The same way: with food!