

It's kinda basic, right?

That's why it works.

And that's exactly what we're going to do for your teen, right now.

Look, if you can't explain how you manage your money in 30 seconds, you're not going to stick with it—and good luck trying to get your teen on board.

In fact, we're going to make this plan even simpler for your teen.

See, your teen doesn't really have 'Daily Expenses' like a mortgage or power bills. Nor do they have any real financial fires to put out.

And the only long-term wealth they really need to worry about is their super (which I'll dedicate the whole of Chapter 9 to sorting out), so we don't need to bother with a Grow bucket here either.

That means that the Serviette Strategy for teens breaks down into just three bank accounts.
