

end of this book you will probably realise that you only need around three
.properties to become completely financially free

CHAPTER 3

Choosing the right property

Formulas not feelings

Property investing is a business, so do not get emotionally attached when deciding what to buy. Your house is your product and your tenant is your
.customer

In 2015, I did an experiment with 900 professional property investors and the results were astounding. I photographed two of my properties and showed them to the investors. I asked them if they had to buy one of the properties and they only had one question before buying it, what would the .question be

They looked intently at both properties. One was pretty with a lovely garden. The other was grey and ugly. Both were terraced properties. Ninety