

broker if you are intending to rent the rooms out individually and make sure .that you have the correct mortgage in place

Keep it simple

A good multi-let that will be worth your while should have at least four lettable rooms with a communal lounge area (see diagram below). Rather than renting out the whole house to a family, you simply rent out each room in the house. You don't actually need a communal area, but unless the