

pushed up and more tenants needing houseshares and willing to .pay a lot more

These changes may or may not materialise, but the lesson from this is that no matter what the economy does and what rules the government in power