

I want to urge you not to be the latter thinker. In November 2014, I remember watching two of my students working on exercises together at the Property Investors Crash Course. Both of them had no previous experience in property and were there for the first time. Both of them were the same age and in a similar financial position. Today, one of them is financially free and the other is in the exact same job with the exact same ?zero property portfolio. It's interesting isn't it

I can write books, put on intensive property training programmes, scream all the property secrets from every rooftop and put my heart and soul into making you successful, but unless you apply what you learn, it will not work. Only you can determine your success and all I can ever be is a helpful tool and resource along the way. When I first went on a property investment course I had nothing and I am not special or even a quick learner, but still today I earn more money than I ever imagined possible simply because I have devoted myself to learning while applying what I learn. If there is a little voice inside your head telling you of all the reasons why this will not work for you, now is the time to squash that little voice ,and say

”.Thanks for sharing“

If your spouse, parents or friends tell you that property investing is risky ,and you cannot possibly invest with no money, respond calmly

”.Isn't that interesting“

The reason you are this far into the book is because you are not going to be an average person with average results. Most people have excuses for why they can't pursue their dreams further and state the reasons why obstacles .have got in their way, but you are unstoppable

Be daring

Dan had done some training with me and I had arranged for us to go and see some potential HMOs. Dan only had £25,000 which was just enough for him to buy one of the properties, but we had five to see. There were two