

here is what will happen if he continues to live off his football income and
 .continue to put aside the rent for buying more properties

Date		Number of Properties	Monthly Passive Property
Today		4	£3,000
after 10 months		5	£3,750
after 18 months	(8 months later)	6	£4,500
after 24.66 months	(6.66 months later)	7	£5,250
after 30.37 months	(5.71 months later)	8	£6,000
after 35.37 months	(5 months later)	9	£6,750
after 39.81 months	(4.44 months later)	10	£7,500
after 43.81 months	(4 months later)	11	£8,250
after 47.44 months	(3.63 months later)	12	£9,000
after 50.77 months	(3.33 months later)	13	£9,750
after 53.84 months	(3.07 months later)	14	£10,500

This is the power of compound interest. If Liam just recycles his rental income instead of spending it, in five years time he will have 14 houses that generates him £10,000 passive income every single month. What about if he continues to do this for another five years once again. Let's see.

Date		Number of Properties	Monthly Passive Property

after 46.33 months	(0.97 month later)	42	£31,500
after 47.3 months	(0.95 month later)	43	£32,250
after 48.25 months	(0.93 month later)	44	£33,000
after 49.81 months	(0.90 month later)	45	£33,750

As you can see looking at this chart, after another five years of Liam recycling his rental income the compound interest has kicked in even more.

Liam would now have 46 properties that would be achieving a passive income of £ 34,500. He would also be a self-made millionaire and set up to
