

- difficulty/friction and, 84–85
- Jen's father example, 170–72
- permanent no vs. present no, 76
- time needed, 75–76
- See also specific types*
- habit loop, 87
- habit spending. See impulse spending, habit spending
- Harvard Business Review* study, 62
- Hathaway, Anne, 86
- hierarchy of needs
 - description, 22–23
 - four F's, 24
 - Frugal Friends* website/podcast resources, 22
 - self-fulfillment, 22
 - See also* Maslow, Abraham
- Hoover, Herbert, 71
- housing
 - buying home/questions and, 105
 - flexibility, 104
 - household spending percentage, 103
 - influencers and, 106
 - mortgage rates, 105
 - nontraditional housing (Jill/Eric), 9, 64, 104, 121–22, 133, 134, 136, 152–53, 161
 - price difference/long-term costs example, 105–6
 - renovation tips, 106
 - renting vs. owning, 105
- human rights violations and overconsumption, 174
- impulse spending
 - brain and, 85–86, 95
 - decreasing/impact, 173
 - defined, 85
 - goggling how to stop, 85
 - inflation and, 173
 - media and, 85
 - statistics on, 173
- impulse spending, habit spending
 - cues, 87–88
 - example (Jen), 86–87
 - example (Paige), 86, 88
 - inventory, 90-day transactions and, 52–54, 86–87
 - overview, 86–88
- impulse spending, shopping as activity/boredom
 - childhood example (Jen), 89
 - free activities and, 89
 - overcoming boredom/activities, 90–92
 - overview, 89–92
 - shopping with friends, 89–90
- impulse spending, social influence
 - eliminating, 96–98