

- Beginning
- Middle
- End

in which you:

- Tell 'em what you're gonna tell 'em
- Tell 'em
- Tell 'em what you told 'em

The beginning and ending essentially mirror each other, stating your conclusion and briefly summarizing the supporting material. The middle, the body of the presentation, consists of discussing that material in detail.