

ENJOY YOUR GOLDEN YEARS NOW!

Nearly everyone dreams of retiring early, of enjoying the good life while they're still young enough to fully appreciate it. How would you like to have the time and money to spend on travel, hobbies, leisure—all the things you'd rather do than work? The stunning truth is that millions of young Americans can retire—right now. And millions more can join them in just a short time by following the simple three-part formula to financial freedom outlined in this book.

At thirty-three, Paul Terhorst was a successful C.P.A. with a well-known international accounting firm. Two years later, he retired to live the life of his dreams. Now, in this remarkable book, he shows how you, too, can cash in on your American dream:

- Create a no-headache, no-risk, CD-based investment plan for stable, continuing income
- Get the most from your retirement dollar in the United States—and live like royalty abroad
 - Cover all your expenses, including shelter, vacations, and entertainment, on $50 a day
- Build your net worth quickly, reduce taxes, and let equity go to work in your place
 - Design a “bare bones” plan that can satisfy your every need
 - Plan for your children's college education, and much more.

For anyone who wants the good life without working until age 65 to get it, Cashing In on the American Dream is the perfect guide to planning your early retirement.
