

play golf, or buy a new guitar. You'll have money to eat at ethnic restaurants, go to jazz clubs at two in the morning, and take your kids to Yankees' games.

Here are some rules we've already discussed:

Live on $50 a Day

Turn hard assets into cash

Buy one-year insured CDs

I'll talk more about these and other rules later on. On p. 220 you'll find all the rules in a handy summary. If you want to skim the book—you haven't retired yet, and I know how busy you are—just look at the rules. Follow the rules and you'll probably retire before your parents do. Almost certainly you'll retire before your friends even think about it.
