

League team, or public service. But retirement offers a sharp break, the chance to go out a winner and start a new game with a head start. If you don't have enough money to retire, see chapter 10, "Building Your Net Worth." If you already have $100,000 to $500,000 of net worth you can retire now. But before you make a move you should answer the question posed in the next chapter: "But what will I do?"
