

I received this Warhol-like canvas as a gift from a friend who said I was “obsessed by money.” I took it as a compliment! This now hangs on the wall at O’Leary Ventures Corporation.

(Artman Agency/Cyrille Margarit)

Spending, Saving, Investing: A Personal-Finance Quiz

To change your fortunes, abide by my mother’s three simple rules: Don’t spend too much. Mostly save. Always invest. Before we embark on this financial journey together, the most important tool you’ll need is information—about yourself, your goals, and your ability to achieve them. You have to know where you’re at before you head where you’re going. To test your self-knowledge about your own spending, saving, and investing habits, try the quiz below. There are no wrong answers, only honest ones.