

you're creating and pledging to stop creating more, put that money you saved back into a Ghost Money fund. A year of no longer grabbing a couple of beers after work could add up to almost $4,000. Change is so much easier to institute when you can see the results.