

festival. Back home at night, kick back, have a glass of wine and unwind. To get the most out of your staycation, turn off the ringer on your phone and set a vacation alert on your email accounts. Don't read or watch the news. You're on vacation—no one even has to know you're still in town. Bonus: enjoy being with your partner in the comfort of your own home, without the normal daily stresses. You've got everything you need!
