

from eight different neighbors—clothes, electronics and old records—and she was able to sell some of it at a decent markup. Her 10 percent commission ended up netting Emma a solid 300 bucks!