

there was no waiting around on set for the ever-present camera, which has since added an extra 10 pounds.

One day, I was resting on the workout equipment when the pretty blonde fitness director came up to me, tapped me on the shoulder and said, “Excuse me, sir. You need to get off the equipment so that other people can use it.” Those were my wife’s first words to me. Hardly a love ballad, but it was enough to get my attention. I started looking for her whenever I went to the club. I talked with her a little and found out she was still in university, working as a fitness director at the club to support herself. She moved with confidence and purpose, and it wasn’t long before I asked her out.

When Shark Tank became the number one show in its fourth season, the network began to promote it aggressively. Here I am shooting a new title sequence for the show, with a wide range of expensive hardware! These TV shoots take hours: I remember arriving at this facility at noon but not leaving until midnight.

“No, no,” she said the first time I asked. “I can’t go out with you. I have a boyfriend.”
