

I dedicate this book to the anonymous nine-year-old girl who ran up to me in the San Francisco airport and told me she was going to be an entrepreneur so she could set her family free.