Career Opportunities

Consultant

Your experience in consulting can lead to roles as a consultant, where you provide expert advice and solutions to clients.

Managing Consultant

With time and experience you can progress to become a managing consultant, overseeing projects and teams.

As a consultant, we all understand the ‘WHAT’ part. What differentiates a good consultant from not a good consultant is the ‘HOW’ part as there can be n different ways of representing the same thing.

As you grow up the ladder, your selling skills become more important than your consulting skills.
