

10 Quirky Rules for Consulting

Now, let's explore the 10 commandments of consulting

Don't Overpromise

Set realistic expectations to avoid disappointment.

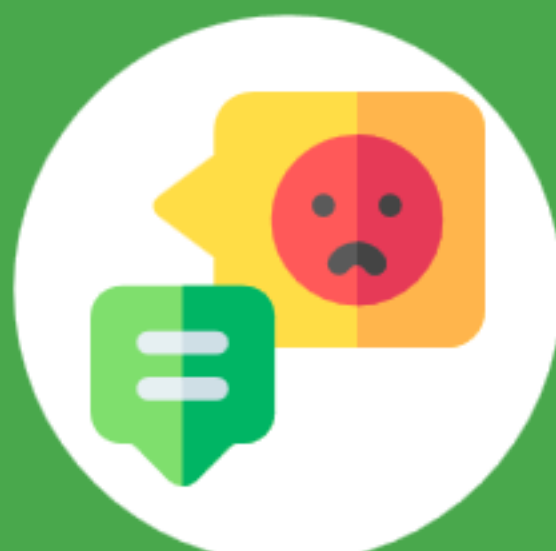

Don't Neglect Communication

Keep the lines open and respond promptly to client needs.

Don't Assume

Take the time to understand every nuance of the client's requirements.

Don't Ignore Feedback

Embrace criticism as an opportunity for growth and improvement.

Don't Lose Sight of the Big Picture

Stay focused on the client's overarching goals and objectives.

Don't Play Hide and Seek

Confront challenges head-on instead of disappearing when the going gets tough.

Don't Channel Your Inner Ghost

Be present and engaged during crucial client interactions; invisibility is not an option.

Don't Play the Blame Game

Take responsibility for setbacks and focus on finding solutions.

Don't Go Rogue with Rogue Waves

Seek approval before making significant changes to the project plan.

Don't Moonwalk Backwards

Maintain consistency and avoid backtracking on commitments without valid reasons.
