Let Us Get Started on Frameworks

However, there are instances when relying solely on frameworks may not be the most appropriate course of action. These include:

Truly Novel or Unprecedented Situations

When faced with unique challenges that defy conventional wisdom, consultants may need to think outside the box and develop tailored approaches beyond existing frameworks. Traditional frameworks may not adequately capture the complexities of rapidly evolving industries like technology or disruptive business models.

Time-Sensitive or Rapidly Evolving Environments

In scenarios where time is of the essence or the circumstances are rapidly changing, the rigidity of specific frameworks may hinder agility and responsiveness. Consultants may need to adopt a more flexible and adaptive approach during a crisis or when dealing with highly volatile market conditions.
