

Millionaires know that how much you make isn't nearly as important as what you do with it.