

Millionaires Don't

- Attend fancy, exclusive universities. 79% of millionaires did not attend prestigious private schools—62% graduated from public state schools, 8% attended community college, and 9% never graduated college at all.
- Ace all their classes in college. 48% of millionaires had a B average or less in school.
- Take out student loans. 68% of millionaires with a college degree never took out a penny in student loans, compared to 49% of the general population.
- All have high-paying jobs. One-third of millionaires never had a six-figure household income in a single working year. Only 31% of them averaged $100,000 household income a year, and only 7% averaged over $200,000 household income over the course of their career.
