

years. If that's your plan, too, then you need to set financial goals for yourself. Let's take a look at how to do that and what those goals should be.