

—and you shouldn't be either. Instead, maximize every opportunity and overcome every obstacle in your way to reach your goals. That's the attitude that drives the success of the millionaires we studied, and it's the same attitude that will drive yours—if you're bold enough to go for it.