

what you believe. You don't have to be a victim to "victim thinking" anymore. Don't focus on your limitations; focus on all the opportunities around you—the same opportunities others are using to build wealth for themselves and their families. Those opportunities are there for you too. Don't let anyone keep you from reaching for them.