

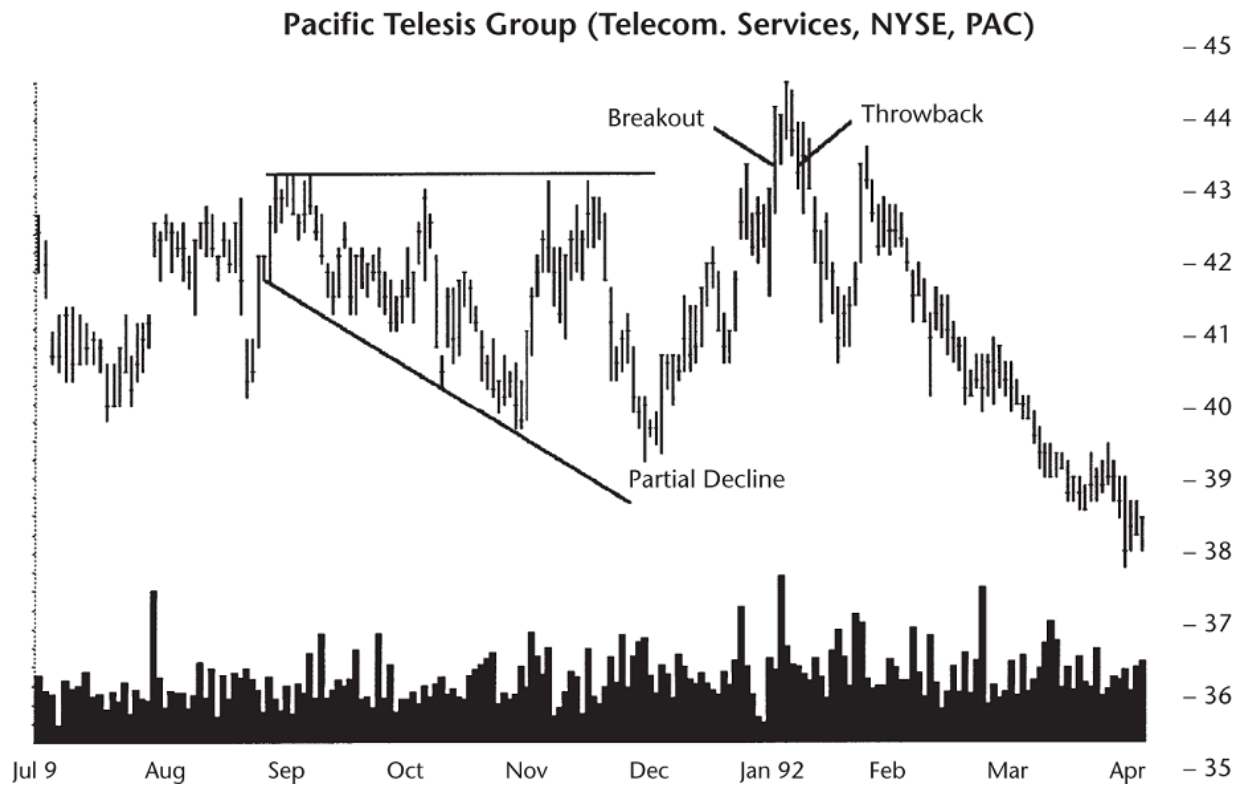

Figure 10.5 A descending broadening formation appears with price that fails to continue moving up. The partial decline suggests the ultimate breakout will be upward, but the rise falters and price moves down instead.