

Figure 72.3 Price breaks out upward from this extended V-top. Upward breakou...

Figure 72.4 Stan uses lower highs to exit this extended V-top trade.

Chapter 73

Figure 73.1 A falling wedge bounded by two down-sloping trendlines.

Figure 73.2 A falling wedge with six trendline touches. Several alternating ...

Figure 73.3 An example of a falling wedge 5% failure. Price does not move mo...

Figure 73.4 The highest price in the wedge becomes the target price to which...

Figure 73.5 This falling wedge trade made 51%.

Figure 73.6 More than one-fourth of falling wedges drop below the bottom tre...

Chapter 74

Figure 74.1 A rising wedge with two up-sloping trendlines. The volume trend ...

Figure 74.2 Shown are two rising wedges with at least five touches of the tw...

Figure 74.3 An example of a rising wedge 5% failure. Price fails to move dow...

Figure 74.4 A downward breakout from the symmetrical triangle suggests price...

Figure 74.5 This rising wedge predicts price will fall to 33.75, and it does...

Chapter 75

Figure 75.1 This Wolfe wave sees price drop but did not reach its target whe...