

be paid at the time of purchase. Federal law requires lenders to provide you with a good faith estimate of your closing costs before you go to settlement.