

want more alcohol after using their tickets, they pay cash. Or you can choose to have a cash bar where everyone pays for his own drinks.

The busiest wedding season is May through October and the most popular day for weddings is Saturday. Reception sites are usually less expensive if you book a wedding in the off-season (November through April) or on any day other than Saturday. Entertainers and photographers may also charge less during the off-season.

Rings and Things

Although the rings are important, don't spend more money on them than you can reasonably afford. You can buy a beautiful ring for a fraction of the cost that experts recommend you spend and upgrade your rings as a sentimental gesture as time goes on and you refine your preferences.
