

CHAPTER 3

The Secrets to Saving Money

Without a savings plan, your chances of saving enough money to meet long-term financial goals are very slim. Like financial success, saving money doesn't happen by accident. It requires smart buying, cutting costs, planning, and understanding a few basic financial concepts, such as the magic of compounding, the rule of 72, the time value of money, and the danger of inflation.