

your other credit cards and transfer this debt to the lower-rate card. Be sure to read the fine print, though. The interest rate on cash advances and transferred balances is usually much higher than the standard interest rate, so be sure you can pay off the cash advance before the introductory offer runs out.